

Educational materials developed through the Baltimore County History Labs Program, a partnership between Baltimore County Public Schools and the UMBC Center for History Education.

RS#04: Holding the Door Closed

(Artist name illegible) New York Journal, March 31st, 1911. This publication was owned by William Randolph Hearst, one of the founders of sensationalized reporting known as yellow journalism. It was a direct competitor magazine with the likes of New York Times and New York World.

"Holding the Door Closed." Cartoon, The New York Journal, March 31, 1911.

http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/trianglefire/photos/photo_enlargements.html?image_64&sec_id=10 (accessed June 28, 2010).